10/11/2023	Rhett Bagley	Environmental Health and Safety	10	Recently during homecoming week a banner draped from the 6th floor all the way to the ground was hung on the side of the North Deck. With heavy winds the banner began tearing and breaking away from the upper anchors and also sliding the large bricks across the grass that were the lower anchors. This banner being of thick fabric probably weighed around 50lbs and could have hurt people or caused a car accident if it fell on any people or vehicles below. Rhett Bagley and Tanner Ingle took notice and rapidly responded to this safety risk. Contacting multiple sources until getting in touch with FM-Grounds to come to help remove the banner before it could tear away. They secured the area making sure to observe the banner for any potential falling and keeping everyone safely back from any hazards until the banner was safely removed.

She has an amazing rapport with the students and Ms. Hammill, the classroom teacher. Ms. Shokoya is patient with the students, she is joyful, and she and Ms. Hammill have worked extremely hard to get the students acclimated to kindergarten and the expectations of the school. 10/27/2023	Schaunell Brock	Atkins Library	1	Schaun and Chris went above and beyond in their duties to Atkins Library by providing a safe and secure environment for an event we held at the library on October 12th. Due to the increase of anti-semitism in our society, particularly after the events in Israel and Gaza earlier this month, we were concerned about security for our event. I even received multiple messages from faculty members inquiring about the possibility of extra security. Schaun and Chris were empathetic with these concerns and positioned themselves outside of the Halton Room during the entire event. I believe Schaun even worked outside of his typical working hours to help us with this. Their presence helped alleviate the anxiety of many and was extremely appreciated. I'd like to nominate them for this award, along with our Associate Dean of Special Collections and University Archives, Dawn Schmitz.
